Hockey Club Dances Hampered by Weather

While the attendance at the dance last Friday night in the Masonic Hall was very good considering the conditions of the roads and weather, the local Hockey Club failed to realize as much as they had anticipated on the evening's entertainment. A severe cold and severe cold weather prevented many outsiders from attending, although several from the Countess and Makepeace districts were enticed to have been on hand.

Prizes in the Whist games played in the earlier part of the evening were won by: Ladies—First—Mrs. A. P. Thompson, Gentle First—Bob Bacon; Consolation—Ladies, Mrs. W. F. MacBeth, Miss, Bonnie Mac-Leach.

Bremer's 5-Piece Orchestra provided excellent music for the dancers and met with the approval of all. The dance, although a financial success, was certainly successful from the viewpoint of entertainment, and all are anxiously awaiting for the announcement of the next one.

The Hockey Club will take this opportunity of thanking those who donated lunch and also those who attended and assisted in their efforts to make the evening a success. Watch for another Whist Drive and Dance sponsored by your Local Hockey Club.

Dr. W. F. Keith Installs Latest Dental Equipment

Dr. W. F. Keith, our local dentist, has added to his office here, one of the most modern instruments used in dental surgery. The instrument, known as the Huxley-Johnston, provides a mild form of anaesthetic, permitting the dentist to work more quickly and is easier on a patient while using the drill. The installation of this instrument in Dr. Keith's office makes of the most modern and best equipped in the Province of Alberta.

The instrument is controlled entirely by the patient who squeezes a small bulb in his or her hand simultaneously with breathing. The action provides just enough anaesthetic to the lungs to deaden all pain but allows the patient to still remain conscious, the experience being a pleasant sensation of drowsiness. The patient comes out of the spell as soon as work on the teeth is completed, so ill after effects being felt.

With the use of this instrument, Dr. Keith reports that the necessity of a number of appointments is a thing of the past. More progress can be made during one appointment than could formerly be made in two or three. This will be good news to the persons who heretofore have had a dread for dental work.

MISS DOROTHY REEDER GUEST OF HONOR AT PARTIES

On Monday evening of this week, a surprise party in honor of Miss Dorothy Reeder, who leaves this week for Vancouver, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Johnson. Dorothy, following a telephone invitation from Mrs. Johnson, was completely surprised to find twelve of her friends waiting for her arrival to complete the party.

The earlier part of the evening was spent in playing games, and midnight a very delicious lunch was served by the hosts.

Following this, dancing to Phil Harris, Guy Lombardo, and other popular orchestras occupied the latter part of the evening.

Several new dance steps were introduced to the guests present, among them being various interpretations on how "The Big Apple" should really be swung.

Gordon Smith proved to be the entertainer of the evening, when he kept all laughing at his antics as an acrobat.

Miss Reeder was presented with a parting gift by Miss Winifred Plafin, who in making the presentation, mentioned how much Dorothy would be missed by her friends in Bassano.

All joined hands and bled—Dorothy, who is starting "The Ship's Journey Good-bye" before the party broke up in the small hours of the morning.

The visitors joined with the many friends of Dorothy in wishing her the best of luck in her new enterprise.

H. Reeder, who is leaving for Vancouver, will be traveling to complete.

Countess Y. P. to Present Play

Countess, Feb. 16th.—"For Peter's sake" is the name of the rollicking fast-moving comedy to be presented in the Countess Community Hall on Monday night. This play, written by Jay Todd, is typical of the comedies he writes, perhaps the best known of which is "Here Comes Charlie."

The first-act scene is set in a parlour, the scene is set in a parlour, the scene is set in a parlour.

The principal role is played by Peter, as Peter Poppertine, a carefree college student of twenty-one.

When Peter's Aunt Sarah played by Vera Gifford, leaves Peter to go to his father in his efforts to put the wood over his aunt's eyes.

He is also fond of playing pranks especially on his friends, the Lads, as Bill Bradshaw, as Peter's fellow-student and best friend.

Peter and Bill are to have their first sister, Nedra, and Jerry Clarkson, daughter of Mr. George Clarkson, a social upstart.

The parts of Nedra and Peggy are played by Gladys Ross and Fern Ferguson, who will play the part of their mother, is taken by Evelyn Ferguson.

Gem Notes

Mary Lou Standen spent the weekend at her home in Gem, returning to her home in Calgary, where she is attending a business college.

A number of Gemites attended the dance last Friday, regardless of the conditions of the roads.

The Gem Hockey Club team raffied off a dutch doll, which was won by Mrs. C. Archibald.

The door prize was a box of chocolate won by Mrs. C. Archibald.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. W. Williams on the birth of a son on Friday, Feb. 11th.

It was decided to have an amuseur program on February 24th for all children under the age of 15 years, for which a prize will be awarded. This will be followed by a program of senior entertainers. Keep the date for the Gem Ladies Club for particulars.

Mrs. F. Marquess entertained a number of ladies to tea on Saturday, Feb. 12th. Due to the condition of the roads all the invitations were not accepted.

Mrs. Brown, Jack and Margaret were in Duchess on Wednesday, Feb. 16th. Charlie returned home with her.

Hockey Club Purchase Brand New Uniforms

The Bassano Bears are the proud owners of a brand new hockey outfit consisting of new jerseys and socks purchased from McKees Stores this week.

The sweaters are a bright gold with contrasting black. On the front of each sweater is a sort of a crest with a cut-out of a bear and a net, with the letters H-C direct underneath. Over the crest is the word "Bassano" and on the back is a large number. All letters and numbers are done in black ink.

This is one of the smartest hockey outfits purchased by a local club for many years and will greatly improve the appearance of the Bears when on the ice.

Purchase of these uniforms was made possible only by the co-operation of the local merchants, who gave the club the outfit at a practically cost.

Although the season is practically over with just a few more games to be played, the club will nevertheless have a first class outfit to start next season with which will assist them greatly.

Crowfoot-Makepeace

Arthur (Dutch) Rodbourne is receiving the congratulations and best wishes of his friends in the event of his first marriage on Feb. 16th.

Wonder why Arthur so smilingly kept singing, "Good, today I Am a Man" and mean it too.

Mr. Joe Bohager and Johnny Clark, together with Mrs. Clark and daughter, managed to get to town, but with much difficulty so they all claim. The car had to be towed as far as the Hipston farm, but from there on, the V-8 had no trouble, or not much anyway.

Mrs. Clark remained in Bassano to visit at the Leonard home.

Despite weather conditions, the Makepeace community party came off as per schedule and all report a glorious time.

Mr. Harold Nall claims distinction of being the one and only one in Makepeace who can get up and make appointments as per arrangements, and wishes all his friends (or otherwise) especially the ladies, that he can make any one-stop flights to get anyone to their destination area on the shortest notice. Now girls.

Mrs. Hetherington spent the weekend in Bassano last week.

The snow is so deep—practically a foot and a half on the level—that the rural delivery was made with a sled, with horses instead of a team which has been on the route since the roads became impassable to car travel.

Mr. Wm. Rodbourne spent a few days visiting with Gile Eames and Bert Ross.

The only ones to attendance dance in town Friday evening were Sid, Bill, Arthur Rodbourne and Mr. Gile Rodbourne.

At treatments after which Taylor was taken to Bassano where Doctor Scott attended him.

There were three others in the lab-ratory, but none of these were touched.

Heavy Snowfall; Drop in Temperature, Over Past Week-end

Old Man Winter finally broke through the traces and showed his fangs of cold water on the Bassano district over the past week-end.

Breaking a long mild spell of above zero weather, the thermometer suddenly dropped on Friday of last week. The drop in temperature was accompanied with a heavy fall of snow which lasted from late Friday afternoon until late Saturday afternoon. Fortunately no heavy wind accompanied the fall, although a gentle breeze caused considerable drifting in places. When the storm finally ceased, approximately one foot of snow on level ground was found to be the result.

Highway traffic was brought to a standstill on Saturday, motorists awaiting the arrival of the Government snowplows. Two of these were dispatched from Medicine Hat, and on Sunday the fall, although a gentle breeze caused considerable drifting in places. When the storm finally ceased, approximately one foot of snow on level ground was found to be the result.

Reports from the Crowfoot and Hussar districts indicate that side roads are in very bad condition as far as motor transportation is concerned. Mail has been delayed at both points, sleighs and horseback having to be called upon to transport the carriers.

The downward trend of the mercury however failed to cease at zero, but kept right on till a low of 38 degrees below zero was recorded. This is a record low temperature for the district for the winter 1937-38.

Under these severe weather conditions the local mixed bonspiel suspended in the Curling rink here on Wednesday afternoon. Frosty fog, cold hands and feet and the dread of going on the ice under these conditions, did not allow the carriers taking part to give their best performance.

At time of writing the sun is shining very strongly and a gentle west wind is in evidence. It is hoped that the cold spell is about to break; and stretch of milder weather is in store for us.

HUSSAR SCHOOL DISTRICT MEET

Hussar, Feb. 7th.—At the annual meeting of the Hussar School District trustees the reports showed that, while there are $1,400 in the treasury, there are $12,000 in arrears of taxes.

The reports were encouraging otherwise. Mr. W. G. Nelson, who has been chairman of the School Board for the past eight years, resigned, and would not stand for re-election. Mr. R. Jans was elected to the place vacated for a term of three years. Owing to the unfavorable weather conditions, only a few attended the meeting.

MACFARLAND'S PLEA

THE PLAIN STATEMENTS, reasoned arguments, and eloquent plea for co-operation and assistance made by John I. MacFarland last week, as Chairman of the Town Council, should not be ignored by any of those whose real desire it may be to see the attainment of the objects of the Council as laid down by its chairman, viz. defeat of the present administration and restoration of Government along proper lines. The plea made by Mr. MacFarland should appeal particularly to the farmer element in every community, holding as he undoubtedly does, such a high place in the regard of all thinking agriculturists. Without question there is very grave danger that if Mr. MacFarland does not receive a reasonable amount of support along the lines suggested by him immediately, or in the near future, it is altogether possible that he may decide to quit the position of Chairman, which he was more or less forced, in the conviction that if the people want to suffer more, it is their God-given right to do so. In other words, if the services of Mr. MacFarland are not to be lost to the Province, it is up to those who are interested to bestir themselves along the lines so plainly laid down by him.

MISARRIAGE OF JUSTICE?

WAS IT A misarrriage of justice which resulted in Messrs. Fowell and Uxwell being sentenced to jail? If so, why? Was the publication of "The Bankers' Toady" pamphlets justifiable or worthy of the type of men these two gentlemen are said to be? Was Mr. Duggan justified in asking for an investigation by the Legislative Assembly? If the request had been granted, would it have satisfied those maligned if properly conducted? Was it because a reasonable request was unreasonably refused, that forced General Giesbach to the remedies furnished by the Criminal Code?

Opinions may differ, but we submit that the Government itself probably had as much to do with the ultimate conviction of these two men as any other agency. Unfortunately the Government seems to have lost sight completely of its own course of action in the history of the cases. Had it governed itself fairly in the first place, it might today have some justification for the charge that the prosecutions were motivated by political parties for political purposes. But as we see it, the Government's own skirts are not entirely clean, and it ought in common decency be prepared to assume responsibility for the responsibility for any misarrriage of justice which may have occurred.

LARGER SCHOOL UNITS

THE DEPARTMENT OF Education is to be congratulated on its determination to proceed gradually but persistently with the organization of school units on the larger unit plan. Judging by all the official reports which have been submitted recently on the operation of those enlarged units now in operation, the results have shown increased efficiency and great economy in each and every one of them. In the face of these reports it is difficult to understand the justification for the opposition shown by the School Trustees Association. They seem bound to oppose whether the facts derived from actual experience prove favourable or otherwise. Their opposition does them but little credit.

As a plan master of fact, the trustees oppose merely because the larger school unit plan takes away what little petty authority the trustees held over the fate and welfare of some country school teacher. That will now be in the hands of an experienced supervisor with credit to the unit and fairness to the parties concerned. This by itself ought to result in greater efficiency. The figures submitted show that in every district economies have been effected amounting in many cases to thousands of dollars. In view of the rising cost of education in this Province and elsewhere anything that would bring relief of the already over-burdened tax-payer ought to be welcomed, instead of rejected, by those charged with the administration of our public spending bodies, and, in particular, school boards.

TEACHERS CONTRACTS

ONE OF THE main bones of contention at the recent convention of the Alberta School Trustees Association arose over the matter of teachers' contracts. The Alberta Teachers Alliance perhaps with some cause, argued successfully that teachers required a greater degree of protection from the peculiarities of Trustees generally when it came to the engagement and discharge of teachers. Admittedly in many cases there were flagrant cases of injustice and unreasonableness on the part of school boards without much redress so far as the teacher was concerned. But that in our opinion did not justify the Department of Education in departing entirely from the principles underlying the law of Master and Servant, and in converting contracts entered into for a term of time into continuous ones, nor of restoring the authority of the Board of Reference, even when the employing School Board had justification under the statute to discontinue the teacher. The present situation is that no matter how unsatisfactory the services of any given teacher may be, nor how desirous the Board may be of terminating its relationship with the teacher, it is nearly impossible to do so, if the teacher, with all the might and power of the A.T.A. behind him or her, should decide to stand by the strict letter of the law. This we submit is fundamentally wrong, and while the teacher ought to have some measure of protection, we do think that in endeavouring to "grant" them that protection the Department has gone to the other extreme, thereby imposing hardships and difficulties on the Trustees which they ought not to be asked to assume.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION FUNDS

THE REVELATIONS made in the Provincial House by the Committee investigation funds in the charge of the Workmen's Compensation Board, are rather startling, but not surprising. It is just another case of the bitter being bitten. It must be a matter of great regret to the Government that so much of the Board's Funds are tied up in Provincial Securities on which, by virtue of the reduction of interest enforced by the Government, the Board will stand to lose such staggering sums as were reported by the Committee.

From Our Exchange Columns

LOSING OUR CREDIT

FOR LONG YEARS London, the capital city of the United Kingdom was the money centre of the world. This title was temporarily lost to New York after the war, but the city on the Thames regained its primary position a few years later. The enormous resources of British capital, the shrewdness, experience and daring of British financiers, and the habit of the world of looking to London for financial leadership is responsible for that city being in that proud position.

A short time ago the Canadian government sought to float a $50 million loan in London. Only about 51 per cent of this loan was taken up, and the rest left with the underwriters. This was a blow to Canada the like of which has not been experienced in recent history. Canada's credit has sunk substantially and it may be years before it is regained.

A $50 million loan is not a very big one when the enormous sums in which finance is continually engaged in London are considered. This makes the humiliation even greater. British people are dubious of Canada's financial standing, and they have a habit of being right much more often than wrong.

The causes of distrust in financial business are not hard to find. In the first place, British investors lost heavily in Canadian railway securities. Then default has taken place in Alberta and repudiation in Ontario.

It is true that Premier Haultain subsequently retracted his steps and made new agreements to replace the ones he had repudiated, but suspicion still lingers. It is somewhat of a new story for a British country to follow doctrines of default and repudiation. There may be some people who think that such policies are all right and that it is uncommonly smart to evade payments of proper debts. However, this has shown on numerous occasions that if a country wants to preserve its strength it must maintain its credit. It has also been shown that repudiation and default on the part of the government gives a bad example to the people and leads to a lowering moral standard.—Hanna Herald.

ENLARGED UNITS

SPEAKING OF SOCIAL DYNAMICS the most dynamic subjects which can be introduced in rural circles at the moment is the question of enlarged school units. At the convention of school trustees held in Calgary, protest against enlarged units, was in the forefront of discussion. Opposition appeared to be stronger than ever at this convention, probably because there has been a considerable increase in the formalization of large units without the formality of voting in the school districts involved. Arbitrary methods have not popularized a scheme which made no great appeal to trustees at any time. An argument frequently heard is that under the enlarged unit plan, school districts which have managed to maintain themselves on a reasonable mill rate, will be obliged to assume heavier obligations to carry impoverished districts which would be included in the large unit. The reply of supporters is that the enlarged unit is a step toward equalization of educational costs.

The rural trustee stands out so conspicuously against the plan that it would be interesting to have the matter submitted to vote, in order to learn if the ratepayers are solidly behind the trustees. In theory the scheme sounds reasonable. Certainly it is progressive. There are difficulties of transportation and administration which are dwelt upon, and whether these would lose less large in actual operation is a question.

The pros and the anti's seem unable to agree or to get together. For example a delegate from the Taber large division, speaking at the trustees convention stated (according to the Alberta) that the divisional board had made a mistake in introducing the large school unit plan. He claimed that the board had spent all its money and would have nothing to work on until June unless the government gave assistance. The attitude taken by the trustees by the government to the trustees in regard to the large unit. "It is time that our elected representatives gave us the respect hearing we give them," he concluded.

Then in the auditor's report of the Taber enlarged unit (from Lethbridge Herald) comes the information that operating expenses in 1936 in the small districts later included in the large division were $60,570. In 1937 under large unit operation expenses were reduced by $6,688. In addition salaries of all teachers with over two years' experience were increased to the minimum of $840, and principals of two and three rooms schools correspondingly increased. The large divisions furnish scribes, notebooks, pen, ink, pencils etc., to all pupils. School transportation for an allowance is furnished to all pupils more than three miles from the school attended. High school education is thus available, through transportation, for every child desiring in the division. Two supervisors of music have been engaged and a circulating library is another extended facility. Better educational opportunities are resulting, according to the report, and less expenditure.

Although there is no assurance that the presence of the Minister of Education at the Trustees convention has clarified the contentious question of enlarged units, it would surely have created a better relationship if he had made the effort to attend. "Pressure of business," is a lame excuse for absenting himself from a gathering so representative of a large element of rural opinion.—Vulcan Advocate.

WILL JAPAN GO BROKE?

IT IS SAID that Japan will "go broke" fighting China. Will they?

Japan's national debt, according to the latest figures available totals 11 billion Yen. A Yen is worth 30c Canadian. That makes the figure $3,300,000,000.

Canada's national debt is around $3,000,000,000 so that this country, with only 11 million people, may be in a much more critical financial position than Japan, whose population numbers close to 70 millions.

Furthermore, European nations have proven that debts do not cut much a figure when it comes to a war. Nations merely wipe them off the slate.

So people should not become too easily obsessed with the view that Japan is committing financial suicide. If it comes to a fight Japan can wipe off her debt as easily and as carelessly as did Germany in World War I.

YOUNG CANADIANS GET REMARKABLE OPPORTUNITY TO LEARN ABOUT AVIATION

What young men, nowadays don't thrill to hear the roar of a plane, zooming high overhead. Every young star longs to learn about flying, and the thrill of our horizon. Unfortunately, so far, this opportunity has been confined to a limited few.

Now, for the first time thousands of air-minded youths all over the country can realize their ambition by following the daring young aviator, Howie Wing, through his complete flying instruction. Every day, Monday through Thursday, they can keep pace with this dashing knight of the propeller, as he studies aerodynamics in one of the world's greatest aviation centres, and graduates into commercial flying.

Active young people will find Howie's training is as thrilling and interesting as it is practical. They can learn to know an aeroplane from propeller to tail. Accompanying Howie Wing in his daily radio adventures, they will thrill to the feeling that they are actually in aviation. They will get to know instructors students intimately—rub shoulders with pilots and engineers, and take their interesting everyday problems. They will realize the thrill of an aviator's life, day by day, in hangars and mess halls, and miles above the earth, fighting his way through fog and sleet, flying blind, with only the faint voice of radio to guide him through.

These and thousands of other thrills are in store for young listeners in the "Howie Wing" thrilling Saga of Aviation. Active youths will be glad to know that they can meet this daring young aviator every day, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday on radio station CFCN at 5.45 p.m. presented with the good wishes of the Kellogg Company of Canada Limited.

What Purposes do Life Insurance Premiums Serve?

Answer.—They provide your dependants a guaranteed sum in the event of your death—or provide money for your old age.

Question.—What is done with the premiums you pay?

Answer.—The savings which you put into Life Insurance are combined with those of other policyholders and are carefully invested in the best interests of all policyholders.

Q.—What is the guarantee back of these invested funds?

A.—The security of the individual loans, in addition to the integrity of the borrowers—whether governments, corporations, or individuals.

Q.—Why are premiums called savings?

A.—Because, year after year, they build up the fund out of which payments to policyholders and beneficiaries are made.

Q.—How much of this money is paid out to policyholders and beneficiaries in Canada?

A.—Half a Million Dollars every business day.

This is the second of a series of messages sponsored by Life Insurance Companies operating in Canada. The third, to appear in two weeks' time, will discuss Life Insurance writing.

Mrs. Fisher Suggests

FOR LUNCHEON

CANADIAN FISH CUTLETS—Place two cups of dry distilled kind of Canadian fish or shellfish and add salt and pepper to suit the taste and two tablespoons of onion juice, two tablespoons of lemon juice and, it desired, two tablespoons of Worcestershire sauce. Add to the fish and seasonings two cups of thick white sauce which has been thoroughly chilled. Form the mixture into cutlets and roll in finely sifted bread crumbs (It will be well to chill the cutlets again after they have been shaped). Bake the cutlets in a greased pan in a moderate oven or fry them in deep fat, having life hot sufficiently hot to brown on each side of bread in forty seconds. The white sauce may be made by melting a quarter of a cup of butter or using a quarter of a cup of cooking oil, blend in a half a cup of flour, adding two cups of warm milk and cooking the mixture until it is thick and smooth—stirring it constantly. A tomato sauce goes well with the cutlets.

Canadian Fish Cutlets are nutritious and in vitamins, are very easily digested because of the tenderness of their flesh.

HEALTH

WITHIN THE BODY the certain glands which pour their secretions directly into the blood stream. These secretions are particularly powerful, and any abnormal condition which results in the alteration of one or other of the internal secretions, whether this be in quantity or in quality, gives rise to serious disorder in the human body.

Situated close to the outlet of the stomach is the gland known as the pancreas. The pancreas produces an internal secretion, insulin, which allows the body to digest and use certain foods. The old idea that in diabetes the blood contains too much sugar is now considered incorrect as is the frequency of vomiting. Further, there is a thirst which seems impossible to quench, and, in spite of an increasing appetite, there is a loss of weight.

Many mild cases of diabetes are detected when apparently well persons present themselves for medical examination in connection with life insurance or for a periodic medical examination. These persons are the fortunate ones, for they are given the chance of early treatment and so avoid the dangers that attend the untreated advanced stage of diabetes.

Before the discovery of insulin the only treatment for diabetes was diet, and mild cases are still controlled by diet alone. The more advanced cases are treated by diet and insulin. Insulin is not a cure for diabetes. It supplies the body with the substance which the normal pancreas furnishes, and it must be taken regularly, being injected under the skin. Insulin does not replace diet; it is always used in combination with diet.

The diabetic who follows the instructions of his doctor with regard to diet and insulin may expect to live a long and useful life, because he has to take care of himself, he may outlive the non-diabetic. It is not easy to adhere to a diet. This is something for us all to remember in our contacts with diabetes; we should help them, not tempt them, in their adherence to what they have been told and what they know is best for them.

Properly used, insulin has allowed to live many who, otherwise, would have died. It has made an old life a reality for many diabetics for whom diet alone had to be so restricted as to leave them weak and incapable of working. Insulin permits the young diabetics to live; before its discovery the younger patient had but little hope. Every case of diabetes requires medical supervision in order that his or her particular needs may receive proper attention.

FOREIGN CANDY WORTH ESSAYS IS IMPORTED AND SOLD IN CANADA

Canada's Julietts have a very "sweet tooth." If the consumption of candy in Canada is in any criterion and their homes apparently take pains to satisfy the craving for, in the twelve months ending October 1937, in improved confectionery about the substantial total of $358,917 was spent.

The children, whose passion for candy is stronger than their interest in homework, for example, are also generous buyers of the toothsome morsels which come from America, and, according to the National Production in Canada Association, in a statement today, the Romans and the children could, with their parents, do their country a service by showing their preferences for candies which are produced in Canada.

Canadian men and women are employed in making candy, just the same as they are in producing other goods, and when we spend more than three-quarters of a million dollars on candy alone, in foreign countries, it means that there is a lower demand for the confectionery that is produced in the Dominion. Automatically, with lower demand, there is less call for the services of our own people. And it is the fathers and mothers who eventually are affected by the spending habits of their children or their sons who are very much concerned with future plans for marriage and the noble experiment in which two try to live as cheaply as one.

PAY YOUR BILLS

The following is taken from an advertisement inserted in American papers by The House of Seagram: "No person should spend a cent for liquor until the necessities of living are provided—and paid for. Bills for properties, . . . clothes, . . . rent, . . . light, . . . heat, . . . doctors' . . . bills such as these have the first call on America's payroll."

We don't want to tell whiskey to anyone who buys it as a sacrifice of the necessities of life. Whiskey is a luxury and should be treated as such. Fine whiskey can play a pleasing part in the scheme of gracious living . . . but only when taken in moderation and only after the bills are paid. "This statement may seem contrary to our own self interest. Actually it is not. As one of America's leading distillers we recognize a definite social responsibility. The very existence of legalized liquor in this country, in which it is consumed . . . the long run, we believe, it is good business for us to say 'pay your bills first.'"

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

As we once again spread first and gossip across the pages of the recorder, we might say that we hope no one will take offence at the trivial items which appear in this column.

It was our intention to bring to you the results step by step of the "Tennis Tournament" which is now well under way at the present time, but circumstances make it impossible. We will however, announce the winners in due course.

Gladie Smith is excellent herself, having heard two out of eight questions asked him within one school day.

Douglas MacLean doesn't like playing table tennis because he can't grab but fast enough to be able to play.

Business Colleges have nothing on Bassano's Grade X class. They are not doing so bad, considering.

Bill Smith and Charlotte have at last realized that spring is just around the corner. You should see the headlines on the notes.

Dot N.C.Q. got a box of chocolates on Valentines. We wonder.

Bill S. is determined to stick to the slow waltzes. What—no Big Apple, huh?

The Grade X Dramatics class spotted the sentiment of a certain birthday card on Feb. 14th by decorating the greetings already written on the board.

ENCOURAGEMENT

A friendly slap of encouragement on the shoulder, a little well-timed smile of approval, a cheerful look for a comrade when he slips—these are the inexpensive little things that get the important big results.

SOWERS

You reap what you sow—not some thing else, but that. An act of love makes the most loving. A deed of kindness begets kindness. The thing reaped is the very thing sown, multiplied a hundred fold. You have sown a seed of life, you reap life everlasting.—F. W. Robertson.

THE UPRIGHT MAN

Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the seed of that man is peace.—Psalm 37:37.

TRADITION

Science advances . . . time progresses . . . engineering skill indicates a stream-lined age . . . changes are taking place in our old traditions and methods.

But there remains one process, that because of its 'tradition,' becomes increasingly popular . . . more valuable to our well-being than ever before.

Each year adds to its charm, yes and quality—a quality that time and science cannot take away, and that process? The 'traditional formula' used by the Brewing Industry of Alberta in the manufacturing of ALBERTA BEERS.
